After accepting the invitation, creating a profile, and logging in on a desktop computer, this is the landing screen for the Dashboard and displays your company, your roles, and points of contact within your organization

The screenshot shows the dashboard for the Cue Tech Support Organization. At the top left is the CUE logo. The main header area includes the text 'Cue Tech Support' and 'Home', along with a refresh icon and 'LAST UPDATED just now 5:06 PM'. The user is logged in as 'cuehealthmobileapp@gmail.com'. A confirmation message states 'You are logged in to Cue Tech Support Organization.' Below this, the 'Your Roles' section shows 'Web Dashboard Roles' as 'None' and 'Mobile App Roles' as 'Share Results', with a red arrow pointing to the latter. A 'Get the Mobile App' section features buttons for the App Store and Google Play. At the bottom left, 'Points of Contact' is listed with a red arrow pointing to it.

This is a confirmation of your role within your organization's dashboard

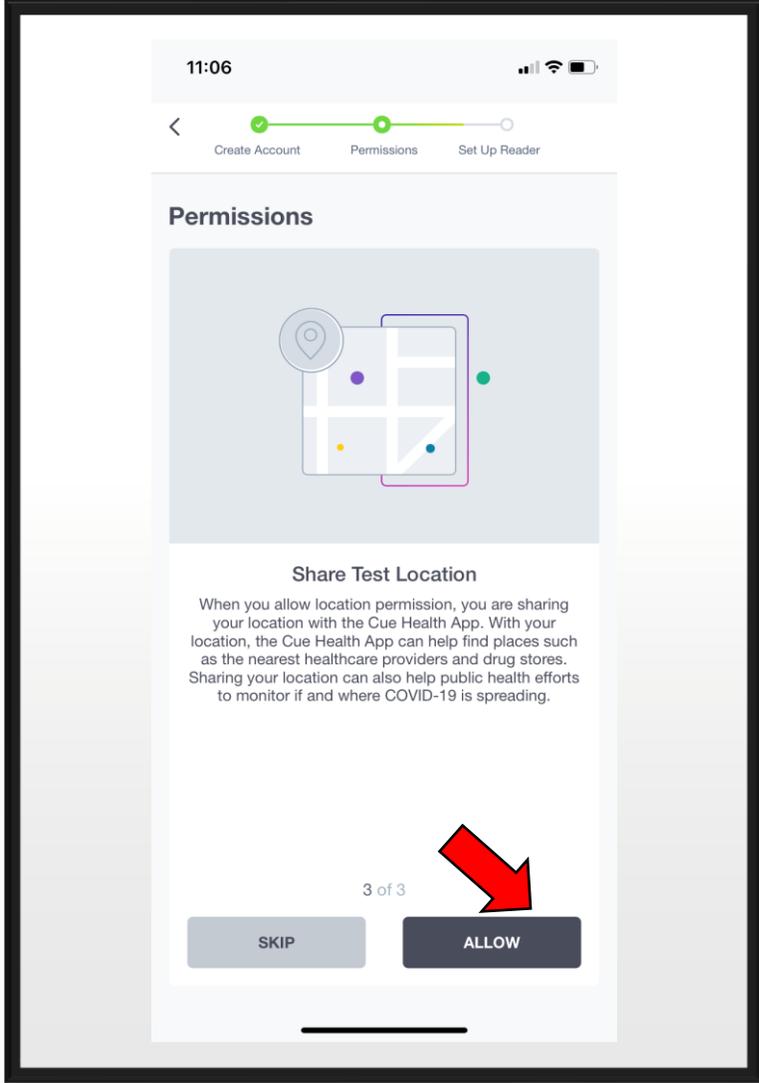

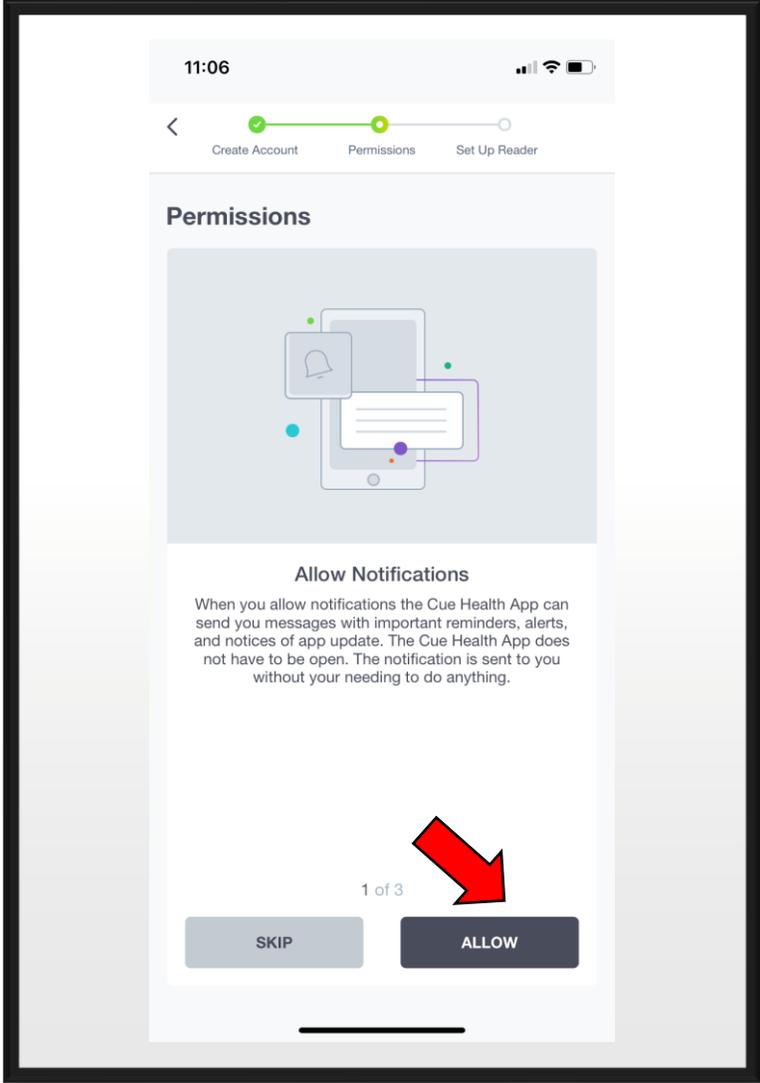

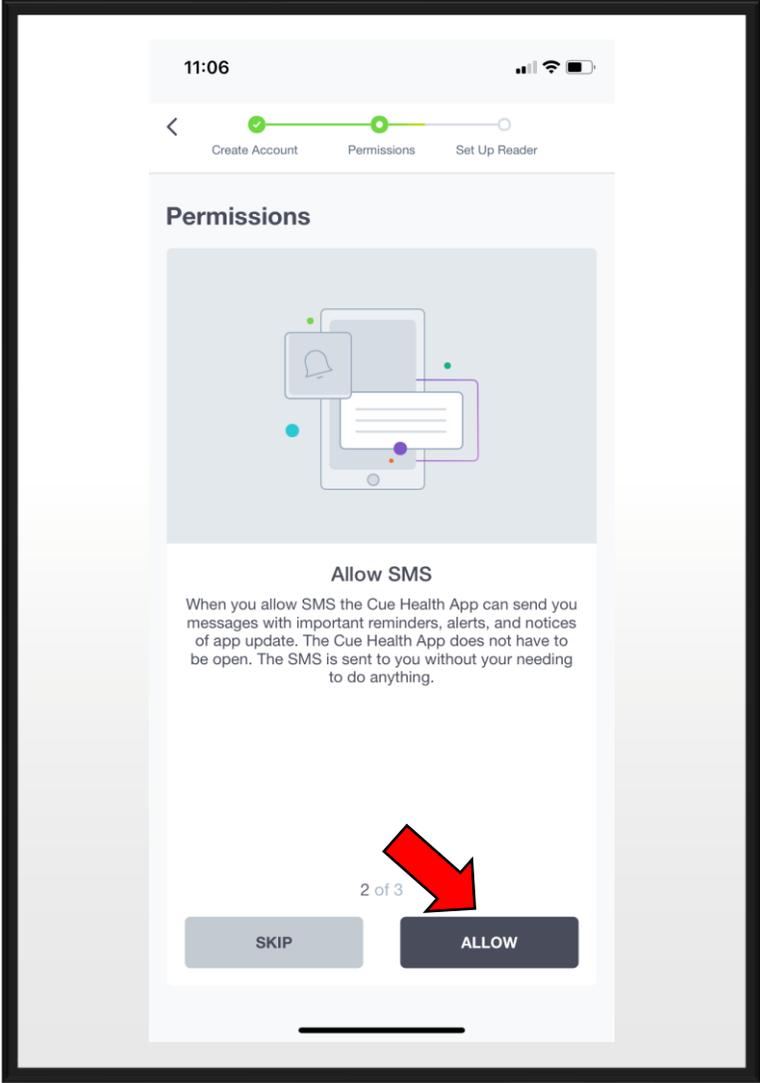

A list of administrators to the dashboard and their email in case you have issues

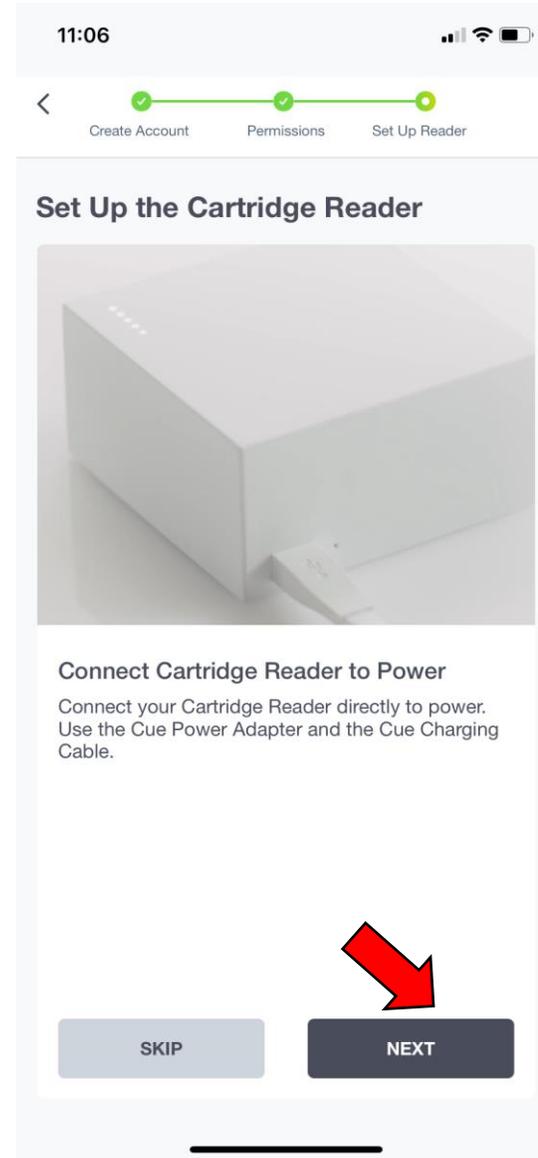

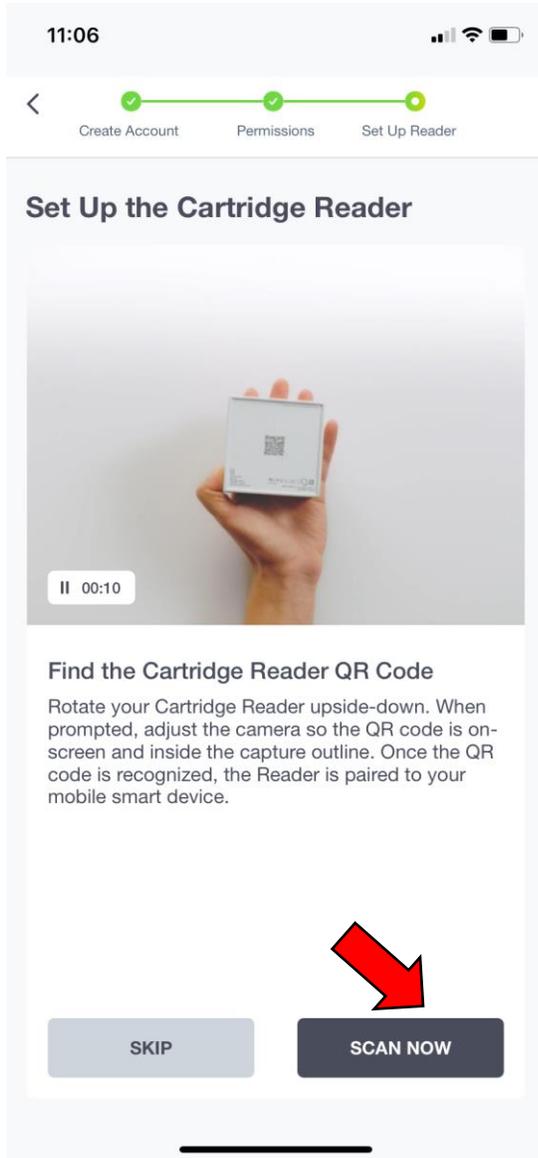

Then, log into the Cue Health Mobile App and accept the agreements to continue

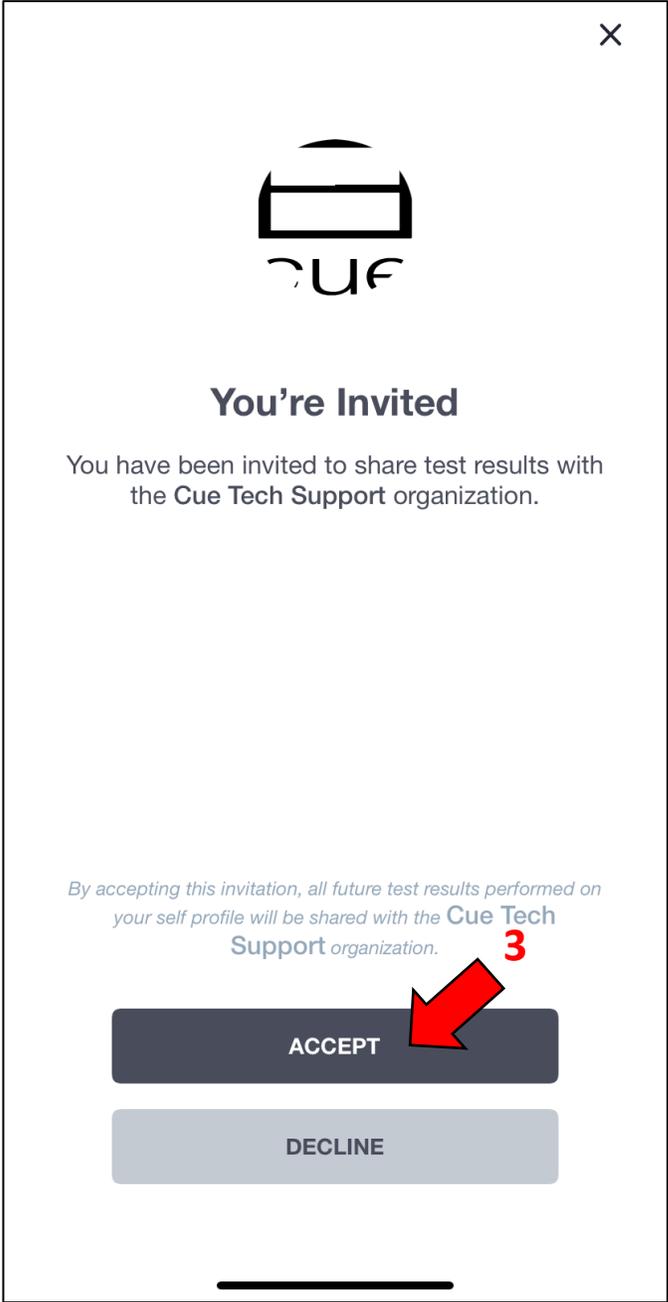

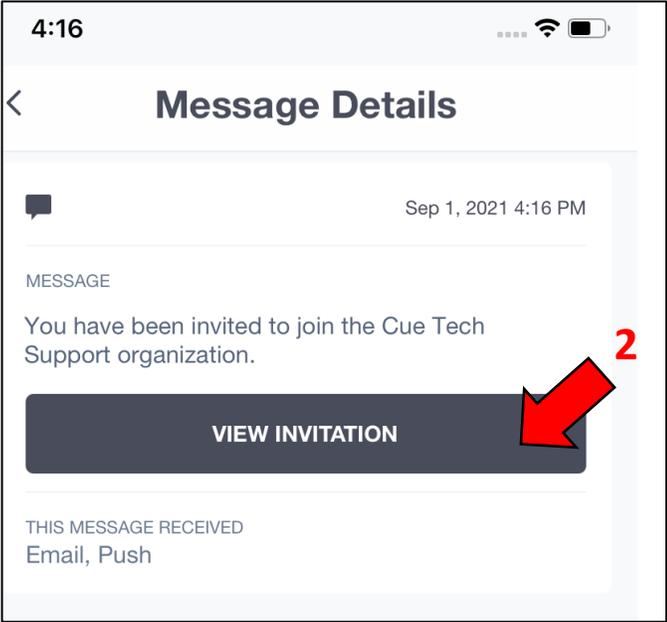

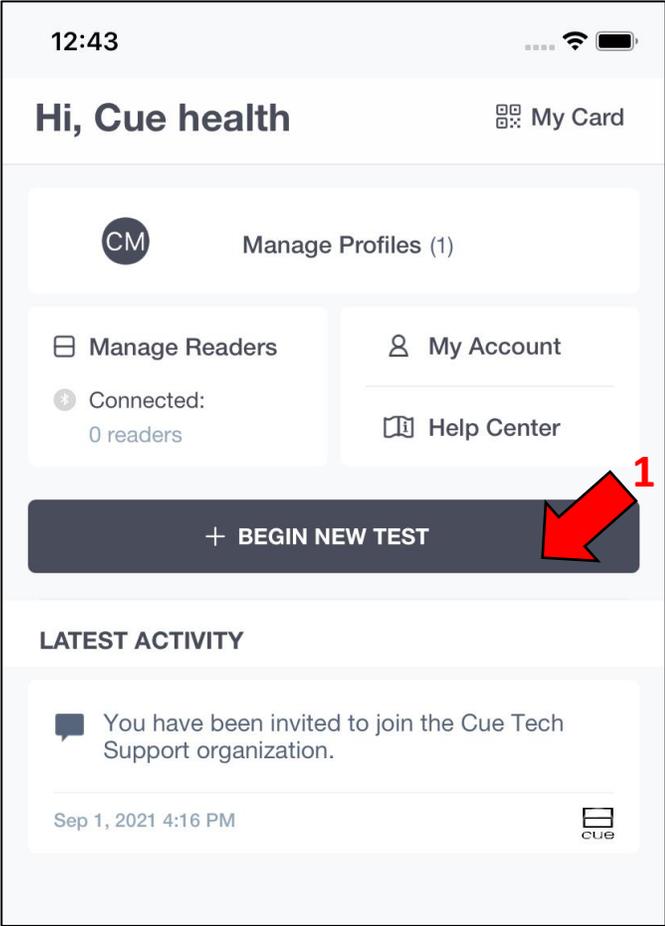

Scroll all the way down to see "Accept to Continue" highlighted

Enable these three permissions to continue

On the Mobile App: One-time Setup for an Employee that already downloaded and created an account prior to accepting the invitation

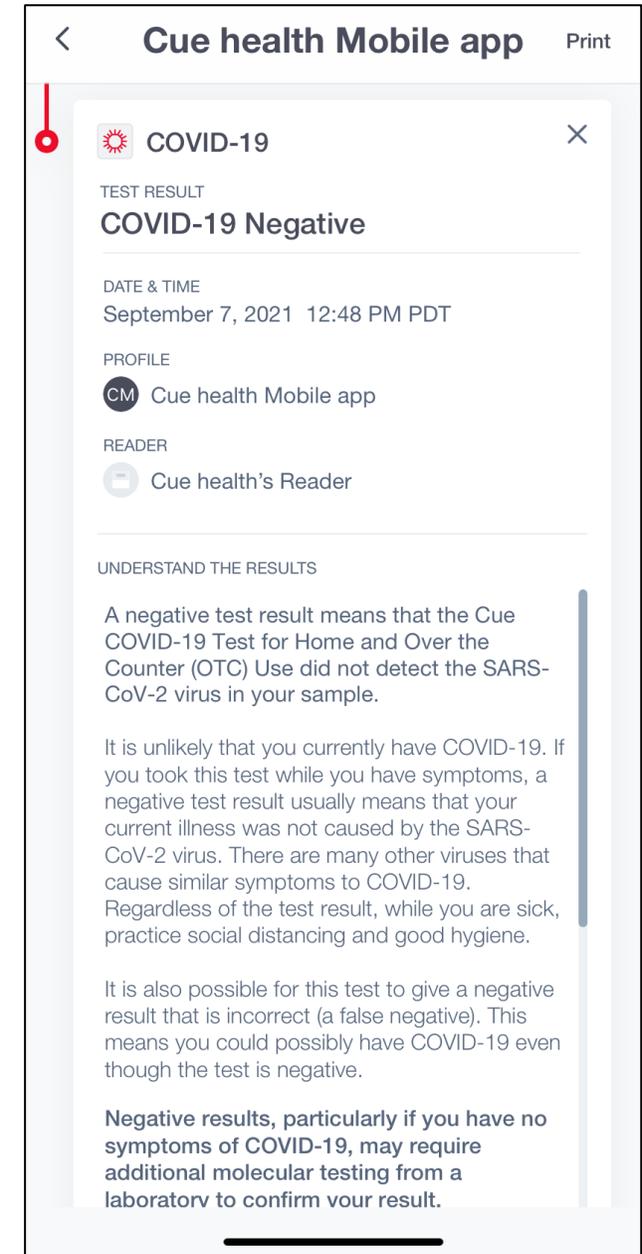

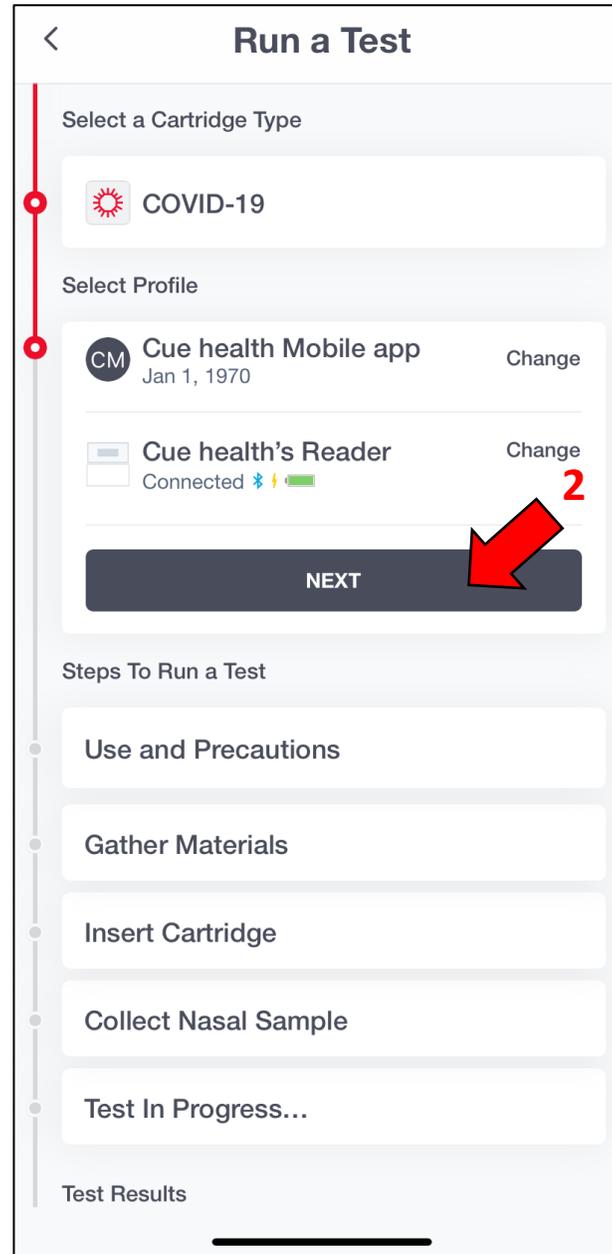

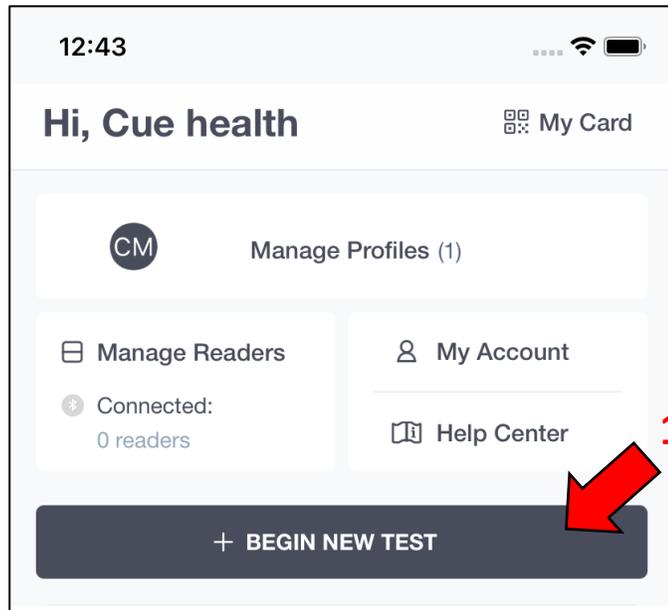

You have completed the one-time set up and can now proceed to at-home testing for your organization

Follow the next set of instructions for running tests at home on yourself, your family, and in the office
